

Student soldier

Summary: A student soldier is typically student that fought for their country.

The term most often refers to:

Student soldiers who were served in the Imperial Japanese Armed Forces during the World War II.

These include Japanese student soldiers, Korean student soldiers, Taiwanese student soldiers.

(Refer to)

Student soldiers who served in numerous self-organized military units for the Indonesian Republican cause during the Indonesian National Revolution. (Refer to Tentara Pelajar)

Student soldiers...

A student soldier is typically student that fought for their country.

The term most often refers to:

Student soldiers who were served in the Imperial Japanese Armed Forces during the World War II. These include Japanese student soldiers, Korean student soldiers, Taiwanese student soldiers. (Refer to)

Student soldiers who served in numerous self-organized military units for the Indonesian Republican cause during the Indonesian National Revolution. (Refer to Tentara Pelajar)

Student soldiers who were served in the South Korean Armed Forces during the Korean War. (Refer to Student Volunteer Forces)